During the month of July there were eleven interments in Oak Hill cemetery, only five being credited to the city of Janesville. For the corresponding time last year there were eight interments, five being credited to the city.

On Saturday evening Mr. J. H. Myers received a dispatch from his wife, who is now visiting her parents in Oberlin, Ohio, stating that their family had been increased by the safe arrival of a baby boy. Johnny is correspondingly happy.

The union service at the Congressional church last evening was well attended. The Rev. Mr. Miner, of Madison, officiated. The Rev. J. Van Wagner, being in Chicago, supplying one of the pulpits in that city. Mr. Miner spoke upon the subject "What is your life?" and delivered an excellent discourse.

The new directory of Rock county registers sixteen incorporated companies in Beloit and twenty-one in Janesville. The capital stock of the Beloit companies amounts to $530,000; that of the Janesville companies is $554,000. The population of Janesville is estimated at between 12,000 and 13,000. The population of Beloit is believed to be between 6,000 and 7,000.

Yesterday morning about five o'clock two Germans came to one of the hotels near the depot and soon after they arrived began to make things lively for those around the house. After a while the proprietor grow disgusted and called the officers to see what effect their persuasive presence would have on the noisy Teutons. Both of the visitor were lodged in jail until they could answer for their sins before Judge Patton.

The milestone that marks the light of time and records the passing years, furnishes an event of greater or less importance in every day life, and frequently one of happy remembrance. An anniversary of this character was celebrated to-day by Miss M. E. Gould, of the third ward, the occasion being the birthday of her mother, Mrs. James Gould, who will recall the first of August, 1850, with pleasant memories. Some handsome presents were received, especially one from her daughter, Mrs. L. B. Howe, of Danvers, Mass. Mrs. Gould's many friends in this city and in other places will heartily wish her many more pleasant birthday celebrations.

While the carriages containing friends and relatives were passing to the cemetery after the funeral services over the remains of Miss Nellie Donovan, this morning, there occurred what threatened to be a serious accident. As the procession was passing along Milwaukee street one of the horses became unmanageable and commenced to buck. This threw the line into confusion and several drivers, to escape a collision, turned their horses into cross streets and even on the sidewalks. Patrick Kavanaugh tried to turn into Franklin street, but the wheel of his buggy caught in that of the one behind him and in the confusion that ensued, the latter buggy was tipped over and the occupants thrown out. A back wheel of the rig belonging to Edward Murphy was smashed, but except for that no damage was done.

The trouble in Washington last week when the Detroiters were awarded the game by a score of 9 to 0, has never been fully explained. The statement of a well-known correspondent whose letter will be read with interest by Janesville people who are watching the progress of the clubs, is that when the seventh inning opened the Nationals, who had been hitting Getzlein and Richardson hard, were three runs ahead. In the first half of this inning, however, the Detroiters made seven runs. When the Nationals saw there was no chance of winning the game, as it was fast growing dark, they played the baby act and refused to put the third Detroit man out when an opportunity presented, thus hoping to delay the game until it was too dark to play, and then have (the score revert to the previous inning, which would have left the Nationals three runs ahead. The umpire called the third man out, however, and then, instead of going to the bat, the Nationals left the field.

"Newspaper espionage" especially as illustrated in the recent Cleveland-Polson wedding is treated very ably in the current number of the "Forum" by Joseph Bishop. He criticizes the newspapers severely for the course taken in the matter and expresses the belief that the American people do not desire such matter as that under discussion. There are several other articles in the same number that are of great value. One that is especially noticeable is "Adulterations in Food," by Dr. Cyrus Edson.

whose name is familiar in all parts of the country. His paper treats of the mixture that are found in the supplies usually sold; and of the ways by which they can be detected. Among the papers those on the labor question and the one published without signature and under the self-explanatory head of "Confessions of a Roman Catholic" have attracted the most attention. The Forum is a comparatively new magazine, but the editors have by their judgment and good management pushed it at once into the front ranks, a position which it seems likely to keep.

IN THE COURTS.

A Divorce Granted—The Beloit Paper Co. Case Referred—A Dispute where a Pith Park was Used.

Circuit Court.

This morning Judge Bennett heard the testimony in the case of Minnie Kiel against August Kiel, both of Monroe. The action was for divorce. P. J. Clauson appearing for the plaintiff and A. S. Douglas for the defendant. A decree was finally granted on the ground of cruel and inhuman treatment. No provision was made by the court in the matter of alimony as the sum was agreed upon by the parties themselves.

As it appeared that in the case of W. T. Hall against the Rock River Paper Co., et al., the adjustment of the rights of O. E. Merrill, one of the defendants would involve the examination of a number of long accounts, it was ordered that the matter be referred to Francis C. Grant for the taking of testimony, and that he report to the court as soon as possible.

Municipal Court.

A case of assault and battery growing out of something very similar, a line ditch, is on trial before Judge Patton to-day. The defendant is John Godfrey, an old man, whose nephew, Thomas Godfrey, is the complainant. It seems that the defendant was in the ditch one day ridding of some boards that had been placed along side when his nephew who occupies the farm on the other side of the ditch came up, and ordered him to stop. He refused, the young man tried to force him to do so and in the struggle old Mr. Godfrey thrust a pitchfork into his nephew's foot. The matter to be decided seems to be whether the ditch was on the line or whether it was entirely on the complainant's farm.

August Weather.

Mansell's almanac gives the following forecast for the weather for August. According to this there will be very little rain during the month.

"Venus is in a longitudinal line with Neptune the 3d, and in conjunction with Saturn the 13th. Mercury is in inferior conjunction with the sun the 15th; Venus is in ascending node the 16th; Jupiter in conjunction with Uranus the same date; Jupiter is in apogee the 22d. The sun is eclipsed the 29th.

The principal disturbing positions of the planets for August appear to be located about the 1st to 15th, the 18th, the 14th to 16th, 22d and 23d, 27th to 31st.

REMARKS—The temperature is likely to average about the mean of the season, both in the United States and Europe. It may average a little below the first week, and a little above the next two weeks. Sun spots are not expected to be unusually numerous during this period."

At Rest.

The funeral services of the late Nellie Donovan, were held in St. Mary's church at 8:30 o'clock this morning, requiem mass being celebrated by Rev. Father Roche, whose remarks on the occasion were fittingly and feelingly bestowed. The floral offerings were beautifully and appropriately designed; and the church was crowded with sympathetic friends, gathered to give a last tribute of respect to the memory of the departed, whose active, useful life, was ever looking to the welfare of others. She was laid to rest in the Catholic cemetery, the pall-bearers being: Messrs. Hugh Dugan, Willie Remming, Thomas Cavanagh, F. C. Grant, Henry Murphy and J. F. Hickey.

HE WON THE RACE.

The Effect that Pope Spring stayer and the Night of a Rabbit had on a Janesville Horse.

Pope Springs is a remarkable place. The water around there must be far superior to any that ever came from Palmyra, Waukesha or Saratoga, or else there is a mistake in the stories that are told by people who have been camping at Janesville's new summer resort. Some of them would do credit to the agent of a western town lot company.

One party that has been up there for the past two weeks has just returned to the crowded, noisy, dusty metropolis and one of them was telling about the medicinal properties of the water. It seemed that for the first three or four days after they went into camp, the place was something like a hospital. Every one had a pet weakness that needed careful nursing, but before they had been there a week, the only invalid left was an old settler, who slowly made his way from one tent to the other with a heavy cane, apparently all twisted up with rheumatism. He stuck to the cane until about the beginning of the second week, and then one morning before breakfast, the campers heard some one creaking through the under brush in the next lot, whooping like an Indian. They looked over to see what the trouble was, and just then their confirmed invalid came in eight, coat flying, cane up in the air, and about fifteen feet in front of him, a very frightened rabbit that was making long jumps toward a clump of hazel bushes. The rabbit was a good runner, but it didn't keep a straight course, and just before the place of safety was reached the supposed sick man made a sudden dash and—well, at breakfast that morning one family in the camp had rabbit stew.

If the effects of Pope Spring water are like that in every case Janesville will soon be a leading summer resort.

Personal.

Miss Ella Virvan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Virvan, left on a visit to the east yesterday.

George A. Hayes will start this evening for the Monona Lake assembly where he expects to spend several days.

Mr. George Wright, who is now employed in Marshall Field's dry goods establishment, is spending a week among his friends in this city.

Mr. W. C. Phillips, of Chicago, spent Sunday in the city, visiting his old time friends. Mr. Phillips is foreman of one of the departments in the Deering reaper works.

The Rev. Father E. M. McGuire returned from his visit to the old country to-day. The trip was a very enjoyable one and the reverend gentleman will return to his work with renewed vigor.

Miss Jennie Richards, and Messrs. Henry Richards and Al. Graham, of Chicago, who have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Hickey, in the Grand ward for two weeks past, have returned to their homes.

Miss Gertrude Zeigler has gone to St. Paul to visit her brother, Mr. W. F. Zeigler. She will then visit friends at Minneapolis, and spend a brief time at Minneapolis, Lake Minnetonka and other pleasure resorts around the head waters of the Great River.

The Agricultural Editor.

Estelina (Jakobs) Bell: "Ah," said the summer tourist, leaning over the fence, and addressing the farmer, "may I make bold to inquire what that great quantity of green vegetation growing over there is?"

"Certainly, mister; that's corn."

"Ah, thanks. And those large animals over beyond the fence, they are, are—"

"Cows, my friend, every one of 'em cows. Say, you don't seem to be very well posted on these 'ere things."

"Perhaps not. The fact is, my business has kept me so closely confined that this is the first chance I've had to get out in the country."

"Running a bank, or something like that?"

"No, sir, I am editor of an agricultural paper. I have held that position for thirty years."

"I would not live always." No; not if disease is to make my life a daily burden. But it need not, good friend, and will not if you will be wise in time. How many of our loved ones are mouldering in the dust who might have been spared for years. This slight cough was unheeded, the many symptoms of disease that lurked within were neglected, and death came. Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" cannot recall the dead, though it has snatched numbers from the verge of the grave and will cure consumption in its earlier stages.

Company "F," 16th Regiment.

The following "furlough," relating to the reorganization of Company F, 16th Wis. Vol., has been issued:

COMRADES: At our reunion in Evansville, Wis. last September, a committee consisting of the resident members in Janesville, was appointed by Lieut. Taggart to select the place and fix the date for our re-union this year. The committee has selected, Janesville, Wis., as the place, and fixed the date on Thursday, September 23, 1886. Now let every one of the twenty-five who attended last year be present, and bring a recruit with him. We want forty of Co. "F" on that day. An invitation is cordially extended to all members of the 16th Wisconsin regiment to join with us. W. H. Sargent Post has kindly tendered the use of their G. A. R. hall, which will be headquarters for all. Arrangements have been made for board at the Park house for $1.25 per day. It will aid the committee very much if you will notify either of the secretaries or president of your coming. Don't leave your wife at home. Will you come?

LAWN CULTURE.

An Expert's Advice—A Reservoir Needed with a Storage Capacity of 500,000 Gallons.

The following, taken from the Rockford Gazette, is of interest to our readers at this time, as it explains the use of a reservoir in connection with artesian water and direct pressure water works. It will be remembered that Commissioner Childrege, of our water works commission, presented a resolution a short time ago, which was adopted, providing a reservoir of a capacity of two million gallons. Such a reserve water supply would meet all requirements of this city, and had Rockford adopted this plan there would be no complaint now on account of an insufficient water supply. The Gazette says:

"The sprinkling of lawns was not prosecuted very vigorously last evening, and it was possible to keep a pressure of forty-five pounds upon the mains all day yesterday. An experienced gardener, speaking concerning lawns, said that lawn mowers were run altogether too close, and that grass would not thrive unless it had some leaf. If the grass on the lawn is never cut shorter than two and one-half inches it will possess strong vitality. Sprinkling such a lawn twice a week will keep it green and growing at a faster rate than sprinkling twice a day, as has been the custom. He stated that the grasses used on lawns are not naturally adapted to wet or swampy ground, in which condition many lawns in the city are kept. The grasses are adapted to uplands, and thrive best with moderate moisture.

Appropos to the subject of the present scarcity of water, it may be remarked that at present every night artesian water is running into the river, because the city has no means of storing the surplus water thus lost. If the city had the power to save this water, the present trouble would be solved.

There ought to be a surplus always at hand to serve the engineer for six hours' pumpage, under a fire pressure. Such an amount would tide the city over all sudden and excessive calls for water during any part of the day. A reservoir capable of holding five hundred thousand gallons would serve the city for all immediate demands. It would cost as much, if not more than another well, but such a storage capacity must ultimately be afforded, in order to prevent the introduction of river water to the mains during fires. The construction of the reservoir on the grounds of the present water-works is a matter of difficulty, because of the nearness of the river. The bottom of the pumping-pits below the level of the river, but it is not necessary to have the reservoir as deep as the pumping pit. By making it shallower and larger, the costly work of sinking the reservoir deeply into the ground would be avoided. Six to eight feet of excavation could be saved in this way, and make it possible to empty the reservoir easily, should it need repairs. The reservoir could be arranged to hold water to the level at which the artesian water is delivered to the pumping-pit, and be arranged to hold from eight to nine feet in depth.

An Honest Man.

A pocketbook containing something over $200, was left in Martin Johnson's blacksmith shop, corner of Court and River street, about four o'clock Saturday afternoon. The owner did not miss it until about 7 o'clock, when the shop was closed. On calling on Mr. Johnson this morning, the pocketbook was promptly restored, with the contents intact.

Albany.

"Does prohibition prohibit? is a question often asked, and as often answered in the negative. A prominent prohibitionist the other day, expressed the true sentiment of the party when he said that he would rather see a democrat elected to office than a republican. Said he, 'we want to bust the republican party, when the better element will join our party, then we will bust the democratic party and have things all our own way.' When water runs up hill we will have to change all the laws. The party took passage at 4 p. m. for the parks and Reuben's cave, returning in the evening. Mr. L. O.
